THE CONTESTENTS.

The House of Representatives should do its duty and seat those republicans who have been fairly elected.

The testimony in the Hill case and the methods that were adopted to count Hill out, were too diabolical to exist in a free and independent government.

Almost similar methods were adopted in the Miller case. We don't ask that these gentlemen be seated on account of their color, but because they were elected. Now in regard to Prof. Langston he was elected beyond all doubt over both the democratic and Mahone candidate which is evident that Langston is the strongest republican in the 4th District of Virginia to day. It is to be regreted that those gentlemen who opposed Laugston failed to put in their appearence at the committee room when his case was being argured; it is a pity that those colored men who were actuated by jealousy and prejudice were conspicious by their absence. Their own folly meannesss, etc., would have haunted them like the ghost of Hamlet's fathers.

The white people are not to blame for our condition.

CADETS FAIR.

As will be seen from their advertisement in another column, the Washington Cadet Corps will continue their fair during next week except on Monday night when, by previous arrangements social Lodge G. U. O. O. F will occupy the Hall. The sug gestion to continue the fair for another week first came from the BEE. The proposition was submitted to the managers who at the fair, and also of the large number of visitors whose presence has contributed so largely to the success of the enterprise. We think the managers have decided wisely in thus yielding to the popular demand, and we extend to them | concern has been buying tin terri- true Boston style. THE COLORED PEOPLE.

We desire to say to the philanthropic white people of this country who have been so liberal toward our charitable institutions that our people are not responsible for frauds perpetrated upon them by impostors nor are we so ungrateful as not to expose them whenever found out. We have some very fine matitutions in this country and especially this city that need help; we have at the head of these institutions responsible men and women, whose reputation and character are above suspicion and who will not practice any deception or low cuning, to secure a contribution for the be investigated before any money is given. In that manner good men and women will not be imblack-legs and impostors.

Wherever we find these impostors we shall expose them to the world and it is the duty of all good citizens to do likewise,

THE PRESIDENT.

There is a great deal of dissatisfaction manifested on the part of some of our jaurnalistic friends against the administration, and while it is true that the President has been slow in making appoint ments, have we any serious cause to complain.?

We are not attempting to make an apology for the administration nor have we any desire to hide its faults, but we do say that whatever may be the faults of the administration the whote republican party should not be denounced for a seeming neglect on the part of one of its members or a few party managers.

The only objection that one can have to the administration thus far is that it is slow in making appointments, but is that a fault or a crime? We of course would like to see republicans in, we are anxious to see the workers in the party given decent places and especially colored republicans.

We are of the opinion that all will end well
